

Biliary Atresia Screening: Tips for Taking High Quality Photos

Stool pictures:

If possible, please upload up to two pictures of your child's stool. Submitting photos will help facilitate an accurate assessment of your baby's risk for biliary atresia.

Best practices:

- Ensure the photo focuses on the stool:
 - You do not need to capture the surrounding area of the diaper/change-table.
 - Do not include the face of your child, body parts, or any other person in the picture.
- Take pictures in a well-lit room/environment:
 - Unless necessary, avoid using the flash on your phone or camera. The flash may distort the stool colour in the image.
 - Try to avoid shadows that might make the stool look darker. It helps to push the curved part upwards, so it lays flat in the photo.
- Do not markup or edit the picture in any way.
